

The Fox and the Crow - Past

One morning a hungry fox was walking in the forest.

The fox saw a crow in a tree.

The crow had a piece of cheese in his mouth and loved to eat that cheese for breakfast.

The fox thought and he sat under the tree and looked up to the crow. "What a beautiful bird you are !" the fox said.

"Your feather as black as night, are so beautiful, but it's too bad that you can't sing, if you could sing, you would be the most beautiful bird.

The crow listened and thought, "the fox is right, I'm beautiful, I can't sing as well as other birds ".

Then the crow opened his mouth and the cheese fell on the ground and the fox ate it.

"Thank you for breakfast" the fox called,

"I see you have a voice, but where is your brain?"
